Experience

Before commencing at Russell Kennedy in 2006, Kaajal worked in the legal department of one of the four major Australian banks assisting in a variety of litigation work, including recoveries under securities, disputes over security documentation and some insolvency matters.

Prior to that, Kaajal occupied the position of Credit Analyst and Business Banking Relationship Manager at a major Australian bank responsible for financial information analysis to ensure minimal security risk for the bank.

Kaajal now practices in the Banking and Financial Services team assisting in:

- drafting and preparing mortgages over land and leases, guarantees and other security documentation for major banks and other prominent financial institutions;
- providing advice to banks and financial institutions on securities and commercial agreements;
- transaction due diligence; and
- taking pride in providing quality service to clients.

In addition, Kaajal also volunteers her spare time at the Werribee Community Legal Centre.
