Content:

This seminar provides an insight into the scope of the heritage controls within the planning permit process. Speakers will discuss the application of the controls and managing expectations with respect to heritage when assessing applications within the heritage overlay.

Presenters:

Bryce Raworth, Heritage Advisor, Bryce Raworth Pty Ltd

Bryce has worked with issues relating to heritage and conservation since the mid 1980s, establishing his own practice in 1991. Bryce provides regular advice to built environment professionals and property owners on technical, architectural and planning issues relative to the conservation and adaptation of historic buildings and precincts. Bryce is presently a conservation consultant for several metropolitan and rural councils.

Egils Stokans – Consultant, Government, Planning and Environment, Russell Kennedy

An Accredited Planning and Environment Law Specialist, with over 20 years experience in planning and environment, local government and heritage law. In addition to legal qualifications, Egils holds Masters degrees in Environment Studies, Urban Planning and Heritage Planning.
